Introduction

The governing body is required to set out a Staff Behaviour Policy/Code of Conduct for all school employees.

In addition to this policy, all staff employed under Teachers' Terms and Conditions of Employment have a statutory obligation to adhere to the 'Teachers' Standards 2012' and in relation to this policy, Part 2 of the Teachers' Standards - Personal and Professional Conduct.

Employees should be aware that a failure to comply with the following Staff Behaviour Policy/Code of Conduct could result in disciplinary action including dismissal.

1. Definitions

For ease of reading, references will be made to 'school'.

References made to 'child' and 'children' refer to children and young people under the age of 18 years. However, the principles of the document apply to professional behaviours towards all children including those over the age of 18 years. 'Child' should therefore be read to mean any child at the school.

References made to adults and staff refer to all those who work with children in an educational establishment, in either a paid or unpaid capacity. This would also include, for example, those who are not directly employed by the school e.g. Local Authority staff, sports coaches. It would be good practice to also share this document with the volunteers in the school.

The term 'allegation' means where it is alleged that a person who works with children has:

- behaved in a way that has harmed a child, or may have harmed a child;
- possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child; or,
- behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates they may pose a risk of harm to children.

References are made in this document to legislation and statutory guidance which differ dependent on the school and alter over time. However, the behavioural principles contained within the document remain consistent, hence, wherever possible, such references have been removed in order that the document does not appear to quickly become out of date or to apply only to certain staff or schools.

2. Overview and purpose of this policy

The document seeks to ensure that the responsibilities of school leaders towards children and staff are discharged by raising awareness of illegal, unsafe, unprofessional and unwise behaviour. It should assist staff to monitor their own standards and practice and reduce the risk of allegations being made against them. It is also recognised that not all people who work with children work as paid or contracted employees. The principles and guidance outlined in this document still apply and should be followed by any person whose work brings them into contact with children.

The policy will also support employers in giving a clear message that unacceptable behaviour will not be tolerated and that, where appropriate, legal or disciplinary action is likely to follow. The Co-Principals of Buckswood School may refer to this document in any disciplinary proceedings.

Whilst every attempt has been made to cover a wide range of situations, it is recognised that no policy can cover all eventualities. There may be times when professional judgements are made in situations not covered by this document, or which directly contravene the guidance given by the employer. It is expected that in these circumstances staff will always advise a member of the senior management team (SMT) of the justification for any such action already taken or proposed.

All staff has a responsibility to be aware of systems within their school which support safeguarding and these should be explained to them as part of staff induction and in regular staff training sessions. This includes the school's safeguarding and child protection policy and this policy.

It is recognised that the vast majority of adults who work with children act professionally and aim to provide a safe and supportive environment which secures the well-being and very best outcomes for children in their care. Achieving these aims is not always straightforward, as much relies on child and staff interactions where tensions and misunderstandings can occur. This policy aims to reduce the risk of these.

It must be recognised that some allegations will be genuine as there are people who seek out, create or exploit opportunities to harm children. However, allegations may also be false or misplaced and may arise from differing perceptions of the same event. When they occur, they are inevitably distressing and difficult for all concerned. It is therefore essential that all possible steps are taken to safeguard children and ensure that the adults working with them do so safely.

3. Underpinning principles

- The welfare of the child is paramount
- Staff should understand their responsibilities to safeguard and promote the welfare of children, including dealing with disclosures around sexual harassment and exploitation.
- Staff are responsible for their own actions and behaviour and should avoid any conduct which would lead any reasonable person to question their motivation and intention
- Staff should work, and be seen to work, in an open and transparent way
- Staff should acknowledge that deliberately invented/malicious allegations are extremely rare and that all concerns should be reported and recorded
- Staff should discuss and/or take advice promptly from their line manager if they have acted in a way which may give rise to concern

- Staff should adhere to the same professional standards regardless of culture, disability, gender, language, racial origin, religious belief and sexual orientation
- Whilst on duty, staff must not consume or be under the influence of alcohol or any substance, including prescribed medication, which may affect their ability to care for children
- Staff should be aware that breaches of the law and other professional guidelines could result in disciplinary action being taken against them; criminal action and/or other proceedings including barring by the Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS) from working in regulated activity, or for acts of serious misconduct prohibition from teaching by the National College of Teaching & Leadership (NCTL).
- Staff and managers should continually monitor and review practice to ensure this policy is followed
- Staff should be aware of and understand their school's safeguarding and child protection policy, arrangements for managing allegations against staff, whistle blowing procedure and their East Sussex Local Safeguarding Children Board (LSCB) procedures.
- Staff Conduct, both at school and in the wider community, needs to reflect on Buckswood in a positive manner. SMT will review the ongoing suitability of any staff member, whose conduct is seen as a concern.

4. How to use this policy

Each section provides general guidance about a particular aspect of work and specific guidance about which behaviours should be avoided and which are recommended.

1. Introduction

Adults have a crucial role to play in the lives of children. This policy has been produced to help them establish the safest possible learning and working environments which safeguard children and reduce the risk of them being vulnerable to being accused of improper or unprofessional conduct.

This means that these guidelines:

- apply to all adults working in Buckswood School whatever their position, role or responsibilities

2. Status of document

This document is endorsed and recommended by the Safer Recruitment Consortium and the Local Safeguarding Children Board

3. Responsibilities

Staff are accountable for the way in which they: exercise authority; manage risk; use resources; and safeguard children.

All staff has a responsibility to keep children safe and to protect them from abuse (sexual, physical and emotional exploitation and harassment , neglect and safeguarding concerns. Children have a right to be safe and to be treated with respect and dignity. It follows that trusted adults are expected to take reasonable steps to ensure their safety and well-being. Failure to do so may be regarded as professional misconduct.

As part of a wider safe guarding context, staff should be aware of contextual safeguarding, how the local environment and social sphere impact on our students life styles. As we are a multi-cultural school, with boarders from all over the world, part of this contextual safeguarding would be to gather an understanding of their home culture and environment and share this as a greater understanding of the world that we live in, thus developing greater peace, harmony , tolerance and acceptance of our world.

The safeguarding culture of a school is, in part, exercised through the development of respectful, caring and professional relationships between adults and children and behaviour by the adult that demonstrates integrity, maturity and good judgement.

This means that employers should:

- promote a culture of openness and support
- Build up contextual safeguarding through a social sphere.
- ensure that systems are in place for concerns to be raised
- ensure that adults are not placed in situations which render them particularly vulnerable
- ensure that all adults are aware of expectations, policies and procedures

The public, local authorities, employers and parents/carers will have expectations about the nature of professional involvement in the lives of children. When individuals accept a role working in a school they should understand and acknowledge the responsibilities and trust involved in that role.

Employers have duties towards their employees and others under Health and Safety legislation which requires them to take steps to provide a safe working environment for staff.

Legislation also imposes a duty on employees to take care of themselves and anyone else who may be affected by their actions or failings. An employer's Health and Safety duties and the adults' responsibilities towards children should not conflict. Safe practice can be demonstrated through the use and implementation of this policy.

This means that Managers/Proprietors/Governing Bodies should:

- ensure that appropriate safeguarding and child protection policies and procedures are distributed, adopted, implemented and monitored

4. Making professional judgements

This policy cannot provide a complete checklist of what is, or is not, appropriate behaviour for staff. It does highlight however, behaviour which is illegal, inappropriate or inadvisable. There will be rare occasions and circumstances in which staff have to make decisions or take action in the best interest of a child which could contravene this policy or where no guidance exists. Individuals are expected to make judgements about their behaviour in order to secure the best interests and welfare of the children in their charge and, in so doing, will be seen to be acting reasonably. These judgements should always be recorded on a welfare form and shared with a member of SMT.

This means that where no specific guidance exists staff should:

- discuss the circumstances that informed their action, or their proposed action, the school's Designated Safeguarding Lead. This will help to ensure that the safest practices are employed and reduce the risk of actions being misinterpreted
- always discuss any misunderstanding, accidents or threats with the Co-Principals or Designated Safeguarding Lead
- SMT or DSL to always record discussions and actions taken with their justifications on a welfare form.
- record any areas of disagreement and, if necessary refer to another agency/the LA/Ofsted/National College for Teaching and Learning/other Regulatory Body

5. Power and positions of trust and authority

As a result of their knowledge, position and/or the authority invested in their role, all those working with children in a school are in a position of trust in relation to all children on the roll.

The relationship between a person working with a child/ren is one in which the adult has a position of power or influence. It is vital for adults to understand this power; that the relationship therefore cannot be one between equals, and the responsibility they must exercise as a consequence.

The potential for exploitation and harm of vulnerable children means that adults have a responsibility to ensure that an unequal balance of power is not used for personal advantage or gratification.

Staff should always maintain appropriate professional boundaries, avoid behaviour which could be misinterpreted by others and report and record any such incident.

Where a person aged 18 or over is in a position of trust with a child under 18, it is an offence¹ for that person to engage in sexual activity with or in the presence of that child, or to cause or incite that child to engage in or watch sexual activity.

Staff should also be aware that it is a criminal offence for anyone aged 18 or over to intentionally communicate with a child under 16, where the person acts for a sexual purpose and the communication is sexual or intended to illicit a sexual response. The offence applies to online and offline communication, including social media, emails, texts, letters, etc. ² It is therefore important staff consider how communications and behaviours which may not meet the criteria of a criminal offence, may raise concerns to a level where there is a consideration of position of trust and boundaries being breached which lead to internal investigation, disciplinary or dismissal processes.

This means that staff should not:

- use their position to gain access to information for their own advantage and/or a child's or family's detriment
- use their power to intimidate, threaten, coerce or undermine children
- use their status and standing to form or promote relationships with children which are of a sexual nature, or which may become so

6. Confidentiality

The storing and processing of personal information is governed by the Data Protection Act 1998. Employers should provide clear advice to staff about their responsibilities under this legislation so that, when considering sharing confidential information, those principles should apply.

Staff may have access to confidential information about children and their families which must be kept confidential at all times and only shared when legally permissible to do so and in the interest of the child. Records should only be shared with those who have a legitimate professional need to see them.

All staff must adhere to the rules and regulations of GDPR which came into force on the 25th May 2018.

Staff should never use confidential or personal information about a child or her/his family for their own, or others advantage (including that of partners, friends, relatives or other organisations). Information must never be used to intimidate, humiliate, or embarrass the child. Confidential information should never be used casually in conversation or shared with any person other than on a need-to-know basis. In circumstances where the child's identity does not need to be disclosed, the information should be used anonymously.

There are some circumstances in which a member of staff may be expected to share about a child, for example when abuse is alleged or suspected. In such cases, individuals have a responsibility to pass information on without delay, but only to the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

If a child – or their parent/carer – makes a disclosure regarding abuse or neglect, the member of staff should follow the school's procedures. The adult should not promise confidentiality to a child or parent, but should give reassurance that the information will be treated sensitively.

If a member of staff is in any doubt about whether to share information or keep it confidential he or she should seek guidance from the Designated Safeguarding Lead. Any media or legal enquiries should be passed to senior management.

This means that staff:

- need to know the name of their Designated Safeguarding Lead and be familiar with the Pan-Sussex Child Protection and Safeguarding Procedures - <https://sussexchildprotection.procedures.org.uk/>
- are expected to treat information they receive about children and families in a discreet and confidential manner
- should seek advice from a senior member of staff (Designated Safeguarding Lead) if they are in any doubt about sharing information they hold or which has been requested of them
- need to be clear about when information can/must be shared and in what circumstances
- need to know the procedures for responding to allegations against staff and to whom any concerns or allegations should be reported
- need to ensure that where personal information is recorded using modern technologies that systems and devices are kept secure
- Follow the rules and regulations that are in line with GDPR.

7. Standards of behaviour

All staff have a responsibility to maintain public confidence in their ability to safeguard the welfare and best interests of children. They should adopt high standards of personal conduct in order to maintain confidence and respect of the general public and those with whom they work, which includes how they conduct themselves with other staff.

There may be times where an individual's actions in their personal life come under scrutiny from the community, the media or public authorities, including with regard to their own children, or children or adults in the community. Staff should be aware that their behaviour, either in or out of the workplace, could compromise their professional position within the school in relation to the protection of children, loss of trust and confidence, or bringing the employer into disrepute. Such behaviour may also result in prohibition from teaching by the National College of Teaching and Learning, a bar from engaging in regulated activity, or action by another relevant regulatory body.

The Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2009 set out grounds for disqualification under the Childcare Act 2006 where the person or a person living in the same household or employed in the same household meets certain criteria set out in the Regulations. For example, an individual will be disqualified where they have committed a relevant offence against a child; been subject to a specified order relating to the care of a child; committed certain serious sexual or physical offences against an adult; been included on the DBS children's barred list; been made subject to a disqualification order by the court; previously been refused registration as a childcare provider or provider or manager of a children's home or had such registration cancelled. A disqualified person is prohibited from providing relevant early or later years' childcare as defined in the Childcare Act 2006 or being directly concerned in the management of such childcare. Schools and private childcare settings are also prohibited from employing a disqualified person in respect of relevant early or later years' childcare.

This means that staff should not:

- behave in a manner which would lead any reasonable person to question their suitability to work with children or to act as an appropriate role model
- make, or encourage others to make sexual remarks to, or about, a child
- use inappropriate language to or in the presence of children
- discuss their personal or sexual relationships with or in the presence of children

- make (or encourage others to make) unprofessional personal comments which scapegoat, demean or humiliate, or might be interpreted as such

This means that staff should:

- be aware that behaviour by themselves, those with whom they share a household, or others in their personal lives, may impact on their work with children.

8. Dress and appearance

A person's dress and appearance are matters of personal choice and self-expression and some individuals will wish to exercise their own cultural customs. However staff should select a manner of dress and appearance appropriate to their professional role and which may be necessarily different to that adopted in their personal life. Staff should ensure they are dressed decently, safely and appropriately for the tasks they undertake. Those who dress or appear in a manner which could be viewed as offensive or inappropriate could render themselves vulnerable to criticism or allegation.

This means that staff should wear clothing which:

- promotes a positive and professional image
- is appropriate to their role
- is not likely to be viewed as offensive, revealing, or sexually provocative
- does not distract, cause embarrassment or give rise to misunderstanding
- is absent of any political or otherwise contentious slogans
- is compliant with professional standards

9. Gifts, rewards, favouritism and exclusion

Staff need to take care that they do not accept any gift that might be construed as a bribe by others, or lead the giver to expect preferential treatment.

There are occasions when children or parents wish to pass small tokens of appreciation to staff e.g. at Christmas or as a thank-you and this is usually acceptable. However, it is unacceptable to receive gifts on a regular basis or of any significant value.

Similarly, it is inadvisable to give such personal gifts to children or their families. This could be interpreted as a gesture either to bribe or groom. It might also be perceived that a 'favour' of some kind is expected in return.

Any reward given to a child should be in accordance with agreed practice, consistent with the school's behaviour policy, recorded and not based on favouritism.

Adults should exercise care when selecting children for specific activities, jobs or privileges in order to avoid perceptions of favouritism or injustice. Similar care should be exercised when children are excluded from an activity. Methods of selection and exclusion should always be subject to clear, fair, agreed criteria.

This means that staff should:

- be aware of and understand their organisation's relevant policies, e.g. behavior policy
- ensure that gifts received or given in situations which may be misconstrued are declared and recorded
- only give gifts to a child as part of an agreed reward system
- where giving gifts other than as above, ensure that these are of insignificant value and given to all children equally

- ensure that all selection processes of children are fair and these are undertaken and agreed by more than one member of staff
- ensure that they do not behave in a manner which is either favourable or unfavourable to individual children

10. Infatuations and ‘crushes’

All staff needs to recognise that it is not uncommon for children to be strongly attracted to a member of staff and/or develop a ‘crush’ or infatuation. They should make every effort to ensure that their own behaviour cannot be brought into question, does not appear to encourage this and be aware that such infatuations may carry a risk of their words or actions being misinterpreted.

Any member of staff who receives a report, overhears something, or otherwise notices any sign, however small or seemingly insignificant, that a young person has become or may be becoming infatuated with either themselves or a colleague, should immediately report this to a member of SMT. In this way appropriate early intervention can be taken which can prevent escalation and avoid hurt, embarrassment or distress for those concerned.

The member of SMT should give careful thought to those circumstances where the staff member, child and their parents/carers should be spoken to and should ensure a plan to manage the situation is put in place. This plan should respond sensitively to the child and staff member and maintain the dignity of all. This plan should involve all parties, be robust and regularly monitored and reviewed.

This means that staff should:

- report any indications (verbal, written or physical) that suggest a child may be infatuated with a member of staff
- always maintain professional boundaries

This means that senior managers should:

- put action plans in place where concerns are brought to their attention

11. Social contact outside of the workplace

It is acknowledged that staff may have genuine pre-existing friendships and social contact with parents of children, independent of the professional relationship.

Staff should, however, also be aware that professionals who sexually harm children often seek to establish relationships and contact outside of the workplace with both the child and their parents, in order to ‘groom’ the adult and the child and/or create opportunities for sexual abuse.

It is also important to recognise that social contact may provide opportunities for other types of grooming such as for the purpose of sexual exploitation or radicalisation.

Staff should recognise that some types of social contact with children or their families could be perceived as harmful or exerting inappropriate influence on children, and may bring the school into disrepute (e.g. attending a political protest, circulating propaganda).

If a child or parent seeks to establish social contact, or if this occurs coincidentally, the member of staff should consult with their line manager at the first opportunity. This also applies to social contacts made through outside interests or the staff member’s own family.

Some staff may, as part of their professional role, be required to support a parent/carer. Should the parent/carer seek to extend this support outside of the previously agreed professional role, this should be immediately discussed with senior management and where necessary referrals made to the appropriate support agency. Staff should be working as part of an agreed plan and not in isolation.

This means that staff should:

- always approve any planned social contact with children or parents with senior colleagues, for example when it is part of a reward scheme
- advise senior management of any regular social contact they have with a child which could give rise to concern including new social contacts
- staff only communicate with children or parents via school based media
- inform senior management of any relationship with a parent where this extends beyond the usual parent/professional relationship
- ensure that they have discussed the boundaries of any pre-existing friendships and social contacts with parents with their line manager
- inform senior management of any requests or arrangements where parents wish to use their services outside of the workplace e.g. babysitting, tutoring
- direct any concerns raised directly to them about another member of staff through the appropriate channels in accordance with the Schools Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

<https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/Child-Protection-and-Safeguarding-Policy-and-Procedures.pdf>

12. Communication with children (including the use of technology)

More information can be found in our Online Safety Policy

<https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/Online-safety-policy.pdf>

In order to make best use of the many educational and social benefits of new and emerging technologies, children need opportunities to use and explore the digital world. Online risks are posed more by human behaviours and values than the technology itself.

Staff should ensure that they establish safe and responsible online behaviours, working to local and national guidelines and acceptable use policies which detail how new and emerging technologies may be used.

Communication with children both in the 'real' world and through web based and telecommunication interactions should take place within explicit professional boundaries. This includes the use of computers, tablets, phones, texts, e-mails, instant messages, social media such as Facebook and Twitter, chat-rooms, forums, blogs, websites, gaming sites, digital cameras, videos, web-cams and other hand held devices. (Given the ever changing world of technology it should be noted that this list gives examples only and is not exhaustive.)

Staff should not request or respond to any personal information from children other than which may be necessary in their professional role. They should ensure that their communications are open and transparent and avoid any communication which could be interpreted as 'grooming behaviour'

Staff should not give their personal contact details to children for example, e-mail address, home or mobile telephone numbers, details of web based identities. If children locate these by any other means and attempt to contact or correspond with the staff member, the adult should not respond and must report the matter to their manager. The child should be firmly and politely informed that this is not acceptable.

Staff should, in any communication with children, also follow the guidance in section 7 'Standards of Behaviour'.

Staff should adhere to other school policies, including those with regard to communication with parents and carers and the information they share when using the internet.

This means that adults should:

- not seek to communicate/make contact or respond to contact with children outside of the purposes of their work
- not give out their personal details
- use only equipment and Internet services provided by the school
- follow the school's Online Safety Policy
- ensure that their use of technologies could not bring their employer into disrepute
- ensure their privacy settings on social media are high
- refrain from expressing personal opinions about the school where they work and/or events that may have occurred there on social media sites
- refrain from posting on social media any form of inappropriate content for example photographs and/or information that could cause offence or bring their profession into disrepute

13. Physical contact

The experience of physical contact is a subjective issue and will be experienced by each child differently according to their experiences. This is an area that can lead to misinterpretation and allegations of inappropriate behaviour. It is therefore essential that staff consider why they need to touch the child and whether it is really necessary.

There are occasions when it is entirely appropriate and proper for staff to have physical contact with children, however, it is crucial that they only do so in ways appropriate to their professional role and in relation to the child's individual needs, age, stage of development and any agreed care plan.

It is not possible to be specific about the appropriateness of each physical contact, since an action that is appropriate with one child, in one set of circumstances, may be inappropriate in another, or with a different child.

Any physical contact should be appropriate to the circumstances at the time, of limited duration and appropriate to the child's age, stage of development, gender, ethnicity and background. Adults should therefore, use their professional judgement at all times. Staff should listen, observe and take note of the child's reaction or feelings and, so far as is possible, use a level of contact and/or form of communication which is acceptable to the child.

Physical contact should never be secretive, or for the gratification of the adult, or represent a misuse of authority. If a member of staff believes that an action by them or a colleague could be misinterpreted, or if an action is observed which is possibly abusive, the incident and circumstances should be immediately reported to the DSL and recorded on a welfare form. Where appropriate, the DSL/Co-Principals should consult with the Local Authority Designated Officer.

Extra caution may be required where it is known that a child has suffered previous abuse or neglect. Staff need to be aware that the child may associate physical contact with such experiences. They also should recognise that these children may seek out inappropriate physical contact. In such circumstances staff should deter the child sensitively and help them to understand the importance of personal boundaries.

In the event that a child with a physical disability joins the School, a general culture of 'safe touch' should be adopted, where appropriate, to the individual requirements. Children with identified additional and/or disabilities who require more physical contact to assist their everyday learning should have a clear and agreed plan that is shared with the parents and where appropriate the child. The arrangements should be understood and agreed by all concerned, justified in terms of the child's needs, consistently applied and open to scrutiny. The plan will be devised by the School Nurse/SENCO alongside the DSL.

This means that staff should:

- be aware that even well -intentioned physical contact may be misconstrued by the child, or an observer
- never touch a child in a way which may be considered indecent
- always be prepared to explain actions and accept that all physical contact can be open to scrutiny
- never indulge in horseplay or fun fights
- always allow/encourage children, where able, to undertake self-care tasks independently
- ensure the way they offer comfort to a distressed child is age appropriate and is acceptable to the child
- always tell their line manager when and how they offered comfort to a distressed child
- report and record situations which may give rise to concern
- be aware of cultural or religious views about touching and be sensitive to issues of gender
- be aware of children who have a plan relating to their physical contact needs

See the section 13 – Record Keeping from Buckswood School's Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

<https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/Child-Protection-and-Safeguarding-Policy-and-Procedures.pdf>

Incidents will be recorded on the Welfare Form, kept in the Hub and cases managed by the DSL or Co-Principals as appropriate.

All welfare forms are monitored by the Hub and SMT are informed on a 'need to know' basis. Policies are applied in accordance with each case.

Staff are provided with information about vulnerable pupils on a 'need to know' basis.

14. Other activities that require physical contact

In certain curriculum areas, such as PE, drama or music, staff may need to initiate some physical contact with children, for example, to demonstrate technique in the use of a piece of equipment, adjust posture, or support a child so they can perform an activity safely or prevent injury.

Physical contact should take place only when it is necessary in relation to a particular activity. It should take place in a safe and open environment i.e. one easily observed by others and last for the minimum time necessary. The extent of the contact should be made clear and undertaken with the permission of the child. Contact should be relevant to their age/ understanding and adults should remain sensitive to any discomfort expressed verbally or non-verbally by the child.

Guidance and protocols around safe and appropriate physical contact may be provided, for example, by sports governing bodies and should be understood and applied consistently. Any incidents of physical contact that cause concern or fall outside of these protocols and guidance should be reported to the DSL who will contact appropriate senior staff/parents/carers.

It is good practice if all parties clearly understand at the outset, what physical contact is necessary and appropriate in undertaking specific activities. Keeping parents/carers and children informed of the extent and nature of any physical contact may also prevent allegations of misconduct or abuse arising.

This means that staff should:

- treat children with dignity and respect and avoid contact with intimate parts of the body
- always explain to a child the reason why contact is necessary and what form that contact will take
- seek consent of parents where a child is unable to give this e.g. because of a disability
- consider alternatives, where it is anticipated that a child might misinterpret any such contact
- be familiar with and follow recommended guidance and protocols
- conduct activities where they can be seen by others
- be aware of gender, cultural and religious issues that may need to be considered prior to initiating physical contact
- be aware of the schools Use of Reasonable Force and Restraint Policy <https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2018/01/Restraint-Policy.pdf>
- The school ensures staff are aware of this policy and sign to say this has been read. Expectations of behavior and conduct are also discussed on induction of new staff.
- Any incident of restraint is automatically discussed after the event as per the schools policy. Records are kept and monitored by DSL in the Wellbeing Hub.

15. Intimate/personal care

Arrangements for intimate and personal care are open and transparent and accompanied by recording systems and risk assessments if necessary. This would be under guidance of the Buckswood Health Service (BHS).

Children should be encouraged to act as independently as possible and to undertake as much of their own personal care as is possible and practicable. When assistance is required, this should normally be undertaken by one member of staff, usually the School Nurse, however, they should try to ensure that another appropriate adult is in the vicinity who is aware of the task to be undertaken and that, wherever possible, they are visible and/or audible. Intimate or personal care procedures should not involve more than one member of staff unless the child's individual healthcare plan specifies the reason for this.

A signed record should be kept of all intimate and personal care tasks undertaken and, where these have been carried out in another room, should include times left and returned.

Any vulnerability, including those that may arise from a physical or learning difficulty should be considered when formulating the child's individual healthcare plan. The views of parents, carers and the child, regardless of their age and understanding, should be actively sought in formulating the plan and in the necessary regular reviews of these arrangements.

Children are entitled to respect and privacy at all times and especially when in a state of undress, including, for example, when changing, toileting and showering.

However, there needs to be an appropriate level of supervision in order to safeguard children, satisfy health and safety considerations and ensure that bullying or teasing does not occur. This supervision should be appropriate to the needs and age of the children concerned and sensitive to the potential for embarrassment.

In accordance with Buckswood School's First Aid Policy the school will :

<https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/First-Aid-Policy.pdf>

- ensure that there are written individual healthcare plans in place for any child who could be expected to require intimate care
- ensure that children are actively consulted about their own healthcare plan

This means that staff should:

- adhere to the School's intimate and personal care policies
- make other staff aware of the task being undertaken
- always explain to the child what is happening before a care procedure begins
- consult with colleagues where any variation from agreed procedure/individual healthcare plan is necessary
- record the justification for any variations to the agreed procedure/individual healthcare plan and share this information with the child and their parents/carers
- where there are changing rooms, announce their intention of entering
- always consider the supervision needs of the children and only remain in the room where their needs require this

This means that adults should not:

- change or toilet in the presence or sight of children
- shower with children
- assist with intimate or personal care tasks which the child is able to undertake independently

16. Behaviour management

Corporal punishment and smacking is unlawful in all schools.

Staff should not use any form of degrading or humiliating treatment to punish a child. The use of sarcasm, demeaning or insensitive comments towards children is completely unacceptable.

Where children display difficult or challenging behaviour, adults should follow the behaviour policy using strategies appropriate to the circumstance and situation.

Where a child has specific needs in respect of particularly challenging behaviour, a positive handling plan, including assessment of risk, should be drawn up and agreed by all parties, including, for example, a medical officer where appropriate. Staff involved with positive handling should be appropriately trained in the methods of intervention and de-escalation should always be used in the first instance.

Senior managers have ensured our behaviour policy includes clear guidance about the use of isolation and seclusion. The legislation on these strategies is complex and staff should take extreme care to avoid any practice that could be viewed as unlawful, a breach of the child's human rights and/or false imprisonment.

<https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2018/01/Restraint-Policy.pdf>

This means that staff should:

- not use force as a form of punishment
- try to defuse situations before they escalate e.g. by distraction
- keep parents informed of any sanctions or behaviour management techniques used
- be mindful of and sensitive to factors both inside and outside of the school which may impact on a child's behaviour
- follow the behaviour management policy
- behave as a role model
- avoid shouting at children other than as a warning in an emergency/safety situation
- refer to national and local policy and guidance regarding positive handling
- be aware of the legislation and potential risks associated with the use of isolation and seclusion
- comply with legislation and guidance in relation to human rights and restriction of liberty

17. The use of control and physical intervention

The law and guidance for schools states that adults may reasonably intervene to prevent a child from:

- committing a criminal offence
- injuring themselves or others
- causing damage to property
- engaging in behaviour prejudicial to good order
- and to maintain good order and discipline.

Great care must be exercised in order that adults do not physically intervene in a manner which could be considered unlawful.

Under no circumstances should physical force be used as a form of punishment. The use of unwarranted or disproportionate physical force is likely to constitute a criminal offence. Where our school judges that a child's behaviour presents a serious risk to themselves or others, we must always put in place a robust risk assessment which is reviewed regularly and, where relevant, a physical intervention plan.

In all cases where physical intervention has taken place, the incident will be recorded including any subsequent actions. This is reported to the Co-Principals and DSL and the child's parents.

Similarly, where it can be anticipated that physical intervention is likely to be required, a plan will be put in place which the child and parents/carers are aware of and have agreed to. Parental consent does not permit schools to use unlawful physical intervention or deprive a child of their liberty. Staff involved with positive handling should be appropriately trained in the methods of intervention and de-escalation should always be used in the first instance.

For further information refer to the East Sussex Positive Handling/Use of Reasonable Force Guidance.

See the schools policy on Use of Restraint and Reasonable Force Policy.

<https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2018/01/Restraint-Policy.pdf>

Buckswood School :

- ensures that there is a lawful physical intervention policy consistent with local and national guidance
- regularly acquaint staff with policy and guidance
- ensures that staff are provided with appropriate training and support, have an agreed policy for when and how physical interventions should be recorded and reported

This means that staff should:

- adhere to the school's physical intervention policy
- always seek to defuse situations and avoid the use of physical intervention wherever possible
- where physical intervention is necessary, only use minimum force and for the shortest time needed

This means that staff should not:

- use physical intervention as a form of punishment

18. Sexual conduct

Any sexual behaviour by a member of staff with or towards a child is unacceptable. It is an offence for a member of staff in a position of trust to engage in sexual activity with a child under 18 years of age and sexual activity with a child could be a matter for criminal and/or disciplinary procedures.

Children are protected by the same laws as adults in relation to non-consensual sexual behaviour. They are additionally protected by specific legal provisions depending on their age and understanding. This includes the prohibition of sexual activity with children by adults in a position of trust.

Sexual activity involves physical contact including penetrative and non-penetrative acts; however it also includes non-contact activities, such as causing children to engage in or watch sexual activity or the production of pornographic material.

There are occasions when adults embark on a course of behaviour known as 'grooming' where the purpose is to gain the trust of a child, and manipulate the relationship so sexual abuse can take place. All staff should undertake appropriate training so they are fully aware of those behaviours that may constitute 'grooming' and of their responsibility to always report to the Head teacher/senior manager any concerns about the behaviour of a colleague which could indicate that a child is being groomed.

This means that staff should:

- not have any form of sexual contact with a child from the school
- avoid any form of touch or comment which is, or may be considered to be, indecent
- avoid any form of communication with a child which could be interpreted as sexually suggestive, provocative or give rise to speculation e.g. verbal comments, letters, notes, by email or on social media, phone calls, texts, physical contact
- not make sexual remarks to or about a child
- not discuss sexual matters with or in the presence of children other than within agreed curriculum content or as part of their recognised job role

19. One to one situations

Staff working in one to one situations with children at the school, including visiting staff from external organisations, can be more vulnerable to allegations or complaints.

To safeguard both children and adults, a risk assessment in relation to the specific nature and implications of one to one work should always be undertaken. Each assessment should take into account the individual needs of each child and should be reviewed regularly.

Arranging to meet with children from the school away from the work premises should not be permitted unless the necessity for this is clear and approval is obtained from the Co-Principals, the child and their parents/carers.

This means that staff should:

- ensure that wherever possible there is visual access and/or an open door in one to one situations
- avoid use of 'engaged' or equivalent signs wherever possible. Such signs may create an opportunity for secrecy or the interpretation of secrecy
- always report any situation where a child becomes distressed or angry to the Wellbeing Hub
- consider the needs and circumstances of the child involved

20. Transporting children

In certain situations staff may be required or offer to transport children as part of their work. As for any other activity undertaken at work, the employer has a duty to carry out a risk assessment covering the health and safety of their staff and to manage any known risks.⁶

Staff should not offer lifts to children unless the need for this has been agreed by the Co-Principals. A designated member of staff, the Educational Visits Co-Ordinator, should be appointed to plan and provide oversight of all transport arrangements and respond to any concerns that may arise.

Wherever possible and practicable it is advisable that transport is undertaken other than in private vehicles and with at least one adult additional to the driver acting as an escort.

It is a legal requirement that all passengers wear seatbelts and the driver should ensure that they do so. They should also be aware of and adhere to current legislation regarding the use of car seats for younger children.

Staff should ensure that their behaviour is safe and that the transport arrangements and the vehicle meet all legal requirements. They should ensure that the vehicle is roadworthy and appropriately insured and that the maximum carrying capacity is not exceeded.

Staff should never offer to transport children outside of their normal working duties, other than in an emergency or where not doing so would mean the child may be at risk. In these circumstances the matter should be recorded and reported to both the Co-Principals and the child's parent(s). The school's health and safety policy and/or educational visits policy sets out the arrangements under which staff may use private vehicles to transport children

This means that staff should:

- plan and agree arrangements with all parties in advance
- respond sensitively and flexibly where any concerns arise
- take into account any specific or additional needs of the child
- have an appropriate license/permit for the vehicle
- ensure they are fit to drive and free from any drugs, alcohol or medicine which is likely to impair judgement and/ or ability to drive
- ensure that the need to be alone with a child is for the minimum time

- be aware that the safety and welfare of the child is their responsibility until this is safely passed over to a parent/carer
- report the nature of the journey, the route and expected time of arrival in accordance with agreed procedures
- ensure that their behaviour and all arrangements ensure vehicle, passenger and driver safety. This includes having proper and appropriate insurance for the type of vehicle being driven
- ensure that any impromptu or emergency arrangements of lifts are recorded and can be justified
- refer to Local and National guidance for Educational visits
- if a child is sick the driver and one other may transport the child to hospital/medical surgery

21. Educational visits

The duties in the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974 and the supporting regulations apply to activities taking place on or off the school premises (including school visits) in Great Britain. The school has a Health and Safety policy, which includes policy and procedures for off-site visits, including residential visits and any school-led adventure activities.

The Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations (1999) impose a duty on employers to produce suitable and sufficient risk assessments. This would include assessment of any risks to employees, children or others during an educational visit, and the measures that should be taken to minimise these risks.

Staff should take particular care when supervising children in the less formal atmosphere of an educational visit where a more relaxed discipline or informal dress and language code may be acceptable. However, staff remain in a position of trust and need to ensure that their behaviour cannot be interpreted as seeking to establish an inappropriate relationship or friendship.

Where out of school activities include overnight stays, careful consideration needs to be given to sleeping arrangements. Children, adults and parents should be informed of these prior to the start of the trip. In all circumstances, those organising trips and outings should pay careful attention to ensuring there is a safe staff/child ratio and suitable gender mix of staff.

Guidance is also available from the Outdoor Education Advisers' Panel <http://oeapng.info/>

This means that staff should:

- adhere to the school's educational visits guidance
- always have another adult present on visits, unless otherwise agreed with senior staff
- undertake risk assessments
- have parental consent to the activity
- ensure that their behaviour remains professional at all times
- never share beds with a child/children
- never share bedrooms unless it involves a dormitory situation and the arrangements have been previously discussed with Co-Principals, parents and children
- refer to local and national guidance for Educational visits, including exchange visits (both to the UK and abroad) available on Exeant - <https://eastsussex.exeant.co.uk/>

22. First Aid

All schools should have an adequate number of qualified first-aiders. The school should report all serious or significant incidents to the parents e.g. by sending a letter home with the child or telephoning the parents.

Any member of school staff may be asked to become a qualified first-aider but they cannot be required to do so unless this forms part of their contract of employment.⁷

Buckswood School :

- ensures there are trained and named individuals to undertake first aid responsibilities
- ensures training is regularly monitored and updated
- refers to local and national First Aid guidance
- adheres to the school's health and safety policy
- explains to the child what is happening.
- always acts and be seen to act in the child's best interest

23. Medical Conditions

Any member of school staff may be asked to provide support to children with a medical condition, including the administering of medicines, but they cannot be required to do so unless this forms part of their contract of employment⁷

Teachers cannot be required to do these tasks but other members of staff, whose contracts are agreed locally, can be required to do so if their contracts provide for it.

Staff should receive sufficient and suitable training and achieve the necessary level of competency before they take on responsibility to support children with medical conditions.

Advice on managing medicines is included in the statutory guidance on supporting pupils at school with medical conditions - <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/supporting-pupils-at-school-with-medical-conditions--3>. The school's First Aid policy will be followed at all times.

No child under 16 should be given prescription or non-prescription medicines without their parent's written consent - except in exceptional circumstances where the medicine has been prescribed to the child without the knowledge of the parents. In such cases, every effort should be made to encourage the child or young person to involve their parents while respecting their right to confidentiality.

In circumstances where a child needs medication regularly, this would be included in their individual healthcare plan. This provides details of the level and type of support a child needs to manage effectively their medical condition in school and should include information about the medicine to be administered, the correct dosage and any storage requirements. A record of all medicines administered to individual children will be kept. Any side effects of the medication to be administered at school will be noted and parents informed.

After discussion with parents, children who are competent to do so should be encouraged to take responsibility for managing their own medicines and procedures. This could include for example, the application of any ointment, or use of inhalers or EpiPens.

If a member of staff is concerned or uncertain about the amount or type of medication being given to a child this should be discussed with the School Nurse.

Adults taking medication which may affect their ability to care for children should seek medical advice regarding their suitability to do so and providers should ensure that they only work directly with children if that advice confirms that the medication is unlikely to impair their ability to look after children. Employers are also responsible for managing the performance of their employees and for ensuring they are suitable to work with children.

Risk assessment is likely to recommend that staff medication on the premises must be securely stored and out of reach of children at all times.

For full details about medication please refer to the School's First Aid Policy.

Buckswood School :

- ensures there are trained and named individuals to administer medicines in Buckswood Health Service (BHS)
- ensures training is regularly monitored and updated by the School Nurse and Boarding Houses staff
- refers to local and national guidance on meeting the needs of children with medical conditions
- adheres to the school's health and safety and first aid policies
- has regard to child's individual healthcare plans
- always ensures that an appropriate health/risk assessment is undertaken prior to undertaking certain activities
- explains to the child what is happening if children are incapacitated or require medication.
- supports staff in acting and being seen to act in the child's best interest
- ensures that individual records of all medications administered are kept by School Nurses and in the Boarding Houses
- ensures adults do not work with children whilst taking medication unless medical advice confirms that they are able to do so

24. Photography, videos and other images

Many educational activities involve recording images. These may be undertaken for displays, publicity, to celebrate achievement and to provide records of evidence of the activity. Under no circumstances are staff allowed to use their personal equipment to take images of children at or on behalf of the school.

The school has arrangements with regard to the taking and use of images, which is linked to our safeguarding and child protection policy. This covers the wide range of devices which can be used for taking/recording images e.g. cameras, mobile-phones, smart phones, tablets, web-cams etc. and arrangements for the use of these by staff, parents and visitors.

Whilst images are regularly used for very positive purposes adults need to be aware of the potential for these to be taken and/or misused or manipulated for pornographic or 'grooming' purposes. Particular regard needs to be given when images are taken of young or vulnerable children who may be unable to question why or how the activities are taking place.

Staff should be sensitive to any child who appears uncomfortable in the use of photography and should recognise the potential for misinterpretation. Children who have been previously abused in a manner that involved images may feel particularly threatened by the use of photography, filming etc.

Making and using images of children will require the age appropriate consent of the child concerned and their parents/carers, and the child's views and wishes should be respected. Images should not be displayed on websites, in publications or in a public place without such consent. The definition of a public place includes areas where visitors to the school have access.

For the protection of children, it is recommended that when using images for publicity purposes that the following guidance should be followed:

- if the image is used, avoid naming the child, (or, as a minimum, use first names rather than surnames)
- if the child is named, avoid using their image
- schools should establish whether the image will be retained for further use, where and for how long
- images should be securely stored and used only by those authorised to do so.

This means that staff should:

- adhere to the online policy and be GDPR compliant.
- only publish images of children where they and their parent/carer have given explicit written consent to do so
- only take images where the child is happy for them to do so
- only retain images when there is a clear and agreed purpose for doing so
- store images in an appropriate secure place in the school
- ensure that a senior member of staff is aware that the photography/image equipment is being used and for what purpose
- be able to justify images of children in their possession
- avoid making images in one to one situations

This means that adults should not:

- take images of children for their personal use
- display or distribute images of children unless they are sure that they have parental consent to do so (and, where appropriate, consent from the child)
- take images of children using personal equipment
- take images of children in a state of undress or semi-undress
- take images of children which could be considered as indecent or sexual

25. Exposure to inappropriate images

Staff should take extreme care to ensure that children are not exposed, through any medium, to inappropriate or indecent images.

There are no circumstances that will justify adults: making, downloading, possessing or distributing indecent images or pseudo-images of children (indecent images of children). Accessing these images, whether using the school's or personal equipment, on or off the premises, or making, storing or disseminating such material is illegal.

If indecent images of children, including sexting and Child Sexual Exploitation, are discovered at the school or on the school's equipment an immediate referral should be made to the police and Single Point of Advice (SPOA). The images/equipment should be secured and there should be no attempt to view or delete the images as this could jeopardise necessary criminal action. If there is any implication of professional misconduct the Managing Allegations procedures in the Safeguarding and Child protection policy should be followed, which will include early consultation with the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO).

Adults should not attempt to investigate the matter or evaluate the material themselves as this may lead to a contamination of evidence and a possibility they will be at risk of prosecution themselves.

Under no circumstances should any adult use school equipment to access pornography. Personal equipment containing pornography or links to it should never be brought into or used in the workplace. This will raise serious concerns about the suitability of the adult to continue working with children.

Staff should keep their passwords confidential and not allow unauthorised access to equipment. In the event of any indecent images of children or unsuitable material being discovered on a device the equipment should not be tampered with in any way.

For further information please refer to UK Council for Child Internet Safety Sexting in Schools and Colleges: Responding to Incidents and Safeguarding Young People

This means that staff should:

- abide by the school's acceptable use and online safety (e-safety) policies
- ensure that children cannot be exposed to indecent or inappropriate images
- ensure that any films or material shown to children are age appropriate

26. Personal living accommodation including on site provision

Staff must not invite any children into their living accommodation.

It is not appropriate for staff to be expected or requested to use their private living space for any activity, play or learning. This includes seeing children for e.g. discussion of reports, academic reviews, tutorials, pastoral care or counselling.

Under no circumstances should children be asked to assist adults with jobs or tasks, either for or without reward, at or in their private accommodation.

This guidance should also apply to all other persons living in or visiting the private accommodation.

This means that staff should:

- be vigilant in maintaining their privacy, including when living in on-site accommodation
- be mindful of the need to avoid placing themselves in vulnerable situations
- refuse any request for their accommodation to be used as an additional resource for the school
- be mindful of the need to maintain appropriate personal and professional boundaries
- not ask children to undertake jobs or errands for their personal benefit
- not allow friends/relations to stay overnight. Any visitors will always need to be badged and chaperoned.

27. Overnight supervision and examinations

There are occasions during exam periods when timetables clash and arrangements need to be made to preserve the integrity of the examination process. In these circumstances examination boards may allow candidates to take an examination the following morning, including Saturdays. The school should ensure that all arrangements reflects safeguarding and a duty of care towards the children and staff. The normal boarding arrangements will be in operation and additional staff may be deployed.

28. Curriculum

Many areas of the curriculum can include or raise subject matter which is sexually explicit or of a political or sensitive nature. Care should be taken to ensure that resource materials cannot be misinterpreted and clearly relate to the learning outcomes identified by the lesson plan. This can be supported by developing ground rules with children to ensure sensitive topics can be discussed in a safe learning environment. This plan should highlight particular areas of risk and sensitivity and care should especially be taken in those areas of the curriculum where usual boundaries or rules are less rigorously applied e.g. drama

The curriculum can sometimes include or lead to unplanned discussion about subject matter of a sexually explicit, political or otherwise sensitive nature. Responding to children's questions requires careful judgement and staff should take guidance in these circumstances from the Designated Safeguarding Lead. The PSHE curriculum should address very carefully sexual exploitation and harassment

Care should be taken to comply with our policy on spiritual, moral, social, cultural (SMSC) which should promote fundamental British values and be rigorously reviewed to ensure it is lawful and consistently applied. Staff should also comply at all times with the policy for sex and relationships education (SRE). It should be noted that parents have the right to withdraw their children from all or part of any sex education provided but not from the National Curriculum for Science.

This means that staff should:

- have clear written lesson plans
- take care when encouraging children to use self-expression, not to overstep personal and professional boundaries
- be able to justify all curriculum materials and relate these to clearly identifiable lessons plans.
- Address Sexual Exploitation and Harassment.

This means that adults should not:

- enter into or encourage inappropriate discussions which may offend or harm others
- undermine fundamental British values
- express any prejudicial views
- attempt to influence or impose their personal values, attitudes or beliefs on children

29. Whistleblowing

Whistleblowing is the mechanism by which staff can voice their concerns, made in good faith, without fear of repercussion. Our school has a clear and accessible whistleblowing section in the safeguarding and child protection policy. Staff who use whistle blowing procedures should have their employment rights protected.

Staff should recognise their individual responsibilities to bring matters of concern to the attention of Co-Principals, the Chair of Advisory Governing Body and/or relevant external agencies and that to not do so may result in charges of serious neglect on their part where the welfare of children may be at risk.

The School has a clear whistleblowing policy

<https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2017/05/Whistleblowing-Policy-and-Procedures.pdf>

The school has clear procedures for dealing with allegations against persons working in or on behalf of the school. These are to be found in the School's Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy <https://www.buckswood.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/Child-Protection-and-Safeguarding-Policy-and-Procedures.pdf>

This means that staff should:

- report any behaviour by colleagues that raises concern
- report allegations against staff and volunteers to Co-Principals/DSL as per the schools Managing Allegation Procedures which are part of the above Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy.

30. Sharing concerns and recording incidents

All staff should be aware of their establishment's safeguarding procedures, including the procedures for dealing with allegations against staff and volunteers.

In the event of an allegation being made, by any person, or incident being witnessed, the relevant information should be immediately recorded and reported to the Co-Principals or Designated Safeguarding Lead as appropriate.

Members of staff should feel able to discuss with their line manager any difficulties or problems that may affect their relationship with or behaviour towards children, so that appropriate support can be provided and/or action can be taken.

In order to safeguard and protect children and colleagues, where staff have any concerns about someone who works with children they should immediately report this to the Co-Principals/DSL in line with the school's procedures.

This means that staff should:

- be familiar with their school's arrangements for reporting and recording concerns and allegations
- know how to contact the LADO/Ofsted/regulatory body directly if required
- take responsibility for recording any incident, and passing on that information where they have concerns about any matter pertaining to the welfare of an individual in the school

Buckswood school :

- ensures that there is an effective, confidential system for recording and managing concerns raised by any individual regarding adults' conduct and any allegations against staff and volunteers

Appendix A

All Buckswood staff are expected to demonstrate consistently high standards of personal and professional conduct.

The following statements define the behaviour and attitudes, which set the required standard for staff conduct throughout your career at Buckswood School.

All staff must uphold public trust and maintain high standards of ethics and behaviour, both inside and outside the school regardless of your role at Buckswood by :

- Treating pupils with dignity, building relationships rooted in mutual respect and at all times observing proper boundaries appropriate to a member of staff at a school.
- Having regard for the need to safeguard all our pupils' wellbeing, in accordance with statutory provisions.
- Showing tolerance of and respect the rights of others, including a greater understanding of contextual safeguarding.
- Not undermining fundamental British Values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, mutual respect and the tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.

- Ensuring that personal beliefs are not expressed in a way which exploits pupil vulnerabilities or might lead to them breaking the law.

As a staff member you must have proper and professional regard for the ethos, policies and practices of our school and maintain high standards in your attendance and punctuality so as to be a good role model for the pupils in our care.

I have read and understand the Staff Behaviour Policy/Code of Conduct and agree to abide by this required standard during my employment at Buckswood School
